PACKAGING

Personal Care Labels

The labels customized for the personal care industry have to appear good and satisfy functional requirements. Good quality of printing, UV and water resistance, and other factors may need to be considered when manufacturing such labels. We are able to execute such solutions and offer them at reasonable prices.

Food & Beverages Labels

General weighing scale labels, direct thermal & thermal transfer labels, day labels for the hotel industry and others are also within our scope of work.

Logistics and Cargo Labels

With the right choice of labels, you can help keep your warehouse organized as these can identify inventory locations and other elements for improved tracking and data collection. These are also important for managing inventory in your distribution facility. With an organized labelling system in your warehouse premises, you could reduce the time spent in picking items from their locations and streamline the whole process from receiving to shipping. RECTAPACK can offer you customizable solutions to simplify the process.

Serialized Barcode Labels

Rectapack can offer solutions such as alpha-numeric sequential numbering, random codes, bar codes and 2D barcodes codes on labels and metal plates. This significantly enhances the security and provides ease of material tracking. Every single item could actually become unique thereby.

Rack Labels

We specialize in the field of barcode labeling and warehouse identification. For warehouses, good rack labeling solutions help to avoid wastage and help you navigate around with ease. We provide durable, long-lasting rack labels with aggressive adhesives for warehouse racks, bins and shelves and retro-reflective label options for long distance scanning.

Oil, Gas and Chemical Industry Labels

We can provide chemical-resistant oil and gas labels which adhere to rough metal and plastic surfaces, making them perfect for labeling chemical drums, pipes, hoses and other products that are exposed to chemicals, oils and fuels.

Promotional labels

This is our primary area of focus. We are capable of offering a wide range of solutions in this regard and can customize our solutions in accordance with your requirements.

We are a manufacturing company specializing in label production.
